Part-Time Game Accessibility Tester – Redmond Area

HCL is reaching out to the Brain Injury community in search of people with disabilities who regularly play games interested in part-time Game Tester positions to assess the accessibility of unreleased games and create a report game publishers can use to improve the accessibility of their games.

These part-time game tester positions paying $18.00 per hour.

REQUIRMENTS:

1.) 18 years or older.

2.) Must be an active game player that plays games at least once a week.

3.) Ability to travel to the Game Testing Lab in Redmond WA where all game testing must be done.

DETAILED PERSONA
Users with limited cognitive skills
Users with limited reach and strength
Users with limited manual dexterity
Users with prosthetic devices
Motor & Cognitive Users with limited ability to use time-dependent controls
Vision Users with little or no color perception

Glen at HCL expects his Accessibility Game Testing Lab will expand over time and provide services to others beyond Microsoft so this could be on-going opportunity.

If you know anyone that may be interested, please contact:

Glenn Barfield - Accessibility as a Service
HCL Technologies Ltd.
email: glenn.barfield@hcl.com
phone: 425-223-0930